

Mercuri Urval

Mercuri Urval is a worldwide international consultancy agency, employing over 700 people. Founded 40 years ago in Sweden, the company operates in 18 countries in Europe and has offices in the U.S.A., South America, Asia and Australia. Our size and success have given us one of the leading positions in Europe. As a consultancy company Mercuri Urval specializes in services such as: recruitment & selection, executive search, strategic capability building, management team development, management audits. Due to our constant and successful business development we are currently seeking to employ an independent and highly motivated individual to join our team in the Warsaw office.

Researcher Warsaw

In your new role you will be responsible for:

- Direct Search and Executive Search
- Collecting and analyzing market information
- Targeting companies, identifying individuals and contacting candidates
- Cooperating with consultants in terms of recruitment processes
- Constant creative approach to searching new methods of attracting candidates

An ideal candidate should present:

- Creativity, persistency, commitment and professionalism
- Open personality and very good communication skills
- Excellent knowledge of English language
- Willingness to develop within HR advisory sector
- Good working knowledge of MS Office,
- Students status

In Mercuri Urval we offer:

- An ideal position for students
- Possibility of gaining first professional experience in the field of HR
- Work in an international consulting company
- A stable, challenging position with the possibility of development within a young and successful team

Please send your application (CV and motivation letter) to Mercuri Urval, e-mail: apply.pl@mercuriurval.com, quoting the reference MU-Researcher.